MANY TOWNS REPRESENTED

Reception Is Held at Governor's Mansion for the Visiting Delegates.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
RALEIGH, N. C., May 4.—The North Carolina State Federation of Women's Clubs convened in its seventh annual session this afternoon with the Woman's Club of Raleigh there being twenty-six of the leading towns of the State represented by over 100 club women. The towns represented are Asheville, Charlotte, Concord, Henderson, Goldsboro, Greensboro, Faison, Fayetteville, Greenville, Henderson, Kernersville, Kinston, Lenoir, Lexington, Morganton, Oxford, Raleigh, Southern Pines, Statesville, Sanford, Warrenton and Wilmington.

The most notable feature of the day was the reception at the Governor's mansion. It was at this function that the address of welcome by Governor Kitchin was delivered. It was a splendid tribute to the value and influence of club women in the social and civic work of communities and the State at large. There was a welcoming address also by Mrs. R. B. Johns for the clubs of Raleigh.

The annual address of Miss Margaret Lovell Gibson, of Wilmington, as president of the federation, was also presented at this time. She treated lucidly the work of the federation in North Carolina, with its forty-three federated clubs, going interestingly into the work of the various departments, embracing literary extension, education, civic art, music, publication, industrial and child labor, reciprocity, child study, household economics, literature and forestry and also the work of the special departments of legislation, library commission and scholarship. She declared that the reports from the various clubs and from the federation officers would show a gratifyingly large amount of social and civic work in all these departments. She appealed for a yet more united and effective effort during the coming year. There was a luncheon to the executive board at 1 o'clock. This was followed by a session of the federation in Representatives' hall of the State House, during which Mrs. Eugene Riley, of Charlotte, vice-president, told of her trip to the Boston Convention. There were also a number of preliminary reports of officers of the federation. The sessions of the federation will continue through Wednesday and Thursday.

Colburn, a suit for damages for trespass on the plaintiffs' lands, the defendant assaulted Justice Carroll Goodlow, the presiding officer of the court, and a serious difficulty was averted only by the interference of outside parties. Colburn was immediately arrested and tried. He was fined and bound over to keep the peace for twelve months.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., May 4.—The University Civic Club at its regular meeting last night occupied its session with a study of the Payne tariff bill now before Congress. There was a large attendance and the discussion of the matter was both timely and instructive. James H. Lindsay, editor of the Progress, read the principal paper, in which he gave a concise review of the Payne bill, and showed its effect on Southern industries. The speaker showed clearly that this tariff is not a revision of the downward, and that the South and West are not to be greatly benefited by the measure as it now stands. He thinks that the new tariff will be a burden on the producers of raw material and the consumers of the finished product, while the manufacturers of the North and East will profit largely. Dr. R. M. Bird briefly discussed the relation of the tariff to the chemical industry, and Dr. Bird took an optimistic view of the situation. He says that the tariff will have a tendency to attract foreign capital to the South,

Verdict of Jury in Case of Simpkins, Who Killed Edward Rhoads.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
PULASKI, VA., May 4.—The trial of Princeton Simpkins for the killing of Edward Rhoads, was ended this afternoon, to the great surprise of those in attendance, and the jury found the prisoner guilty of murder in the second degree, fixing his punishment at seven years in the penitentiary. All the evidence was introduced yesterday, and when court convened this morning both sides rested, and the court gave instructions to the jury. A large number of witnesses who were summoned in the case were not put on the stand, and the trial was greatly shortened. The defense relied strongly on the fact that the prisoner was weak-minded, and it was testified that two of his brothers were and his mother is of unsound mind. This evidently had great weight with the jurors, who gave him a much lighter sentence than was anticipated by the large crowd in attendance. The case was argued by counsel for both sides. Hon. J. C. Wyser opened for the prosecution, and made a strong plea for conviction. He was followed by A. T. Bakridge and E. Lee Trinkle, for the defense. Commonwealth's Attorney John S. Draper closed the case for the State, and after the jury had been out two hours it brought in a verdict of seven years in the penitentiary.

He says that the tariff will have a tendency to attract foreign capital to the South, where the raw ingredients and water power can be secured. Thus, he thought, there would result a number of independent industries, and resultant competition with lower-priced chemical products. The talks of Messrs. Lindsay and Bird were discussed by Albert Bolling, Gibson Hobbs and C. V. Runyan. The club decided to hold a banquet the latter part of this month, at which an effort will be made to have an out-of-town speaker of the caliber of a series of toasts will be given at the banquet under the general head of "How a College Man Can Get into Politics."

SACRAMENTO RE-PORTS A FINE
CASE

A fine example of a recovery in a case of kidney disease that was supposed to be incurable is reported from Sacramento, Mr. L. T. Gibson, of 521 Ninth Street, Sacramento, was in October last in a local hospital in the capital city, swollen with dropsy that often attends the serious and supposed incurable cases. As is usual in these cases the hospital treatment did not result, when he was advised to try Fulton's Renal Compound by a friend (Charles A. Newton, the yardmaster of the S. P. R. Co., at Sacramento, who has himself been cured by the treatment). Dropsy began to subside and the renal inflammation gradually abated, and Gibson is now back to his employment with the S. P. R. Co., after recovering from a disease that is rated as incurable the world over. In a letter he has just written, he states, "I believe it has saved my life. It is the greatest remedy for kidney disease on earth."

No matter whether called "kidney trouble," "Nephritis," or "Bright's Disease," the real difficulty is INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS. Fulton's Renal Compound is the first emollient for inflamed kidneys that the world has ever seen. Send for literature.

TOBACCO-GROWERS
WILL POOL CROP

They Will Also Go to Washington in Advocacy of High Tariff.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
DANVILLE, VA., May 4.—The Mutual Protective Association of Bright Tobacco Growers of Virginia and North Carolina, at a special meeting held here to-day, adopted resolutions to pool the 1909 crop at a general average of 12 cents per pound, and if not sold at satisfactory prices to reduce the 1910 crop.

The meeting was largely attended and was presided over by President H. O. Kerns, of Sutherland. Congressman W. W. Saunders, who is in the city, addressed the farmers and explained his position in favoring a high tariff on Turkish tobacco. He stated that Turkey prohibited American growers from growing tobacco in this section, and that it would be a great injustice to allow the product from that country to come in and compete with tobacco grown in this section. The remarks of Mr. Saunders were well received. President Kerns and Vice-President S. C. Adams were named as the committee to go to Washington and advocate a high tariff on the Turkish product.

Colonel West Demands That Mr.
Withers Discontinue His Manner of Advertising.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
SUFFOLK, VA., May 4.—Has a political orator the right to use the name of his opponent in his advertising matter for the purpose of drawing larger audiences or otherwise? This is a question which arose here to-day in the legislative fight of Robert W. Withers and Colonel J. H. West. A contest which is growing in torridity faster than the weather waxes warm. It came about in this way: Mr. Withers challenged Mr. West for a debate at Crittenden, where his campaign was opened. Mr. West declined. He again challenged Mr. West to meet him at Driver next Saturday, and featured the fact on handbills that West had been challenged, not announcing whether the debate would materialize. Mr. West, in a letter to Mr. Withers to-day, says that his first word in refusing to debate is final, and demanded that the use of his name on Mr. Withers' posters be discontinued. Mr. Withers asked for a reply as to Mr. Withers' decision. Mr. Withers has not yet answered the request, but declared tonight that he would continue to make speeches all over the county, would continue to challenge Mr. West to every engagement, and would continue to use his name in advertising. The sequel will be waited with interest. Mr. Withers has served several years in the House, is an orator of reputation, and president of the Virginia Good Roads Association. Mr. West is a member of Governor Swanson's staff and the State committee, and is widely known.

STILL FIGHTING FOR RING.

Justice Will Reopen Case on Ground of Former Hearing.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., May 4.—Justice Denning, who recently held that Miss Laila B. Short, 120 Bank Street, must return to J. D. McFarland, a $55 claim against her, and that she must engage him, and claimed by Miss Short to have been on Christmas gifts will on Saturday morning next take up the question, reopening the case on the ground of a former trial of the same question before Justice Andrew Jackson Dalton.

Miss Short, through her counsel, D. T. Tansan, will contend that Justice Dalton issued a warrant compelling the identical facts before Justice Denning, and that the warrant was subsequently dismissed. She will hold that the case, having been once tried and decided, there can be no second trial, and that Justice Denning's judgment, giving McFarland the ring, is void. If this be ruled and other necessary supplies to begin work on the line be purchased at the earliest opportunity possible. The work of construction will begin at Roxbury and continue from there to Bradley's store, in Charles City. The line will extend from there to the public house, running to Charles City, C. H., in an easterly direction, and to Greenville, near the Henrico line, in a westerly direction.
